Prince Harry's Californian Night Out In Andaz San Diego!

Prince Harry. Andaz San Diego is fine and all, but you see, we've got this pool — and for some reason you aren't using it. You are more than welcome to use it. Shirts optional.

Ha!

Prince Harry spent the night out in California, as he's here for a few months of helicopter training (badass!). It was his first night of true relaxation since he got here, so he and 20 of his friends headed up to the rooftop of Hotel Ivy for some earned R&R!

Comfortably set up at the far west end of the expansive rooftop, they ordered Absolut Vodka, Red Bull and beer, and enjoyed the views of downtown San Diego. By midnight, they moved to the rooftop's pool deck and from a private cabana, watched the rugby match and celebrated until the early hours of the morning.

Unfortunately it will have been a pretty rare night, as he won't be able to get out so often. He's here to train, and not party, so that's what he'll be doing!

Either way, it's awesome that he's here!
