Sexiest Hotels

We check into hotels for business, for relaxation and for the joy of travel, right? But what's the other reason we check in? Yes, the dangerous liaison, the dirty weekend, the sex-on-a stick stay. Forget the business today we're all about the pleasure. Here are the hotels we think have luxury lust appeal. Have we romped and road - tested them all? Now that would be telling...

ANDAZ SAN DIEGO, SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA, USA

Can a suite really be stylish with a stripper's pole at its centre? We think so. it is all about how you present it.

Andaz San Diego, San Diego, California, USA

Many of the rooms at Andaz San Diego have glass screens between the bed and bathrooms for intimate couple sharing. There a hotel 'sex kit' with condoms, massage oil etc. and a vibrator, so discreet that according to Hotel Chatter the box simply reads 'too much of a good thing can be wonderful'. However it is the two-bedroom Andaz Star Suite, which really registers on our sexometer. The shag-piled master bedroom (of course) has king-size bunk beds, a mirrored ceiling and an in room 'stripper' pole for added exercise. Oh, and if you get bored with sliding up and down that (steady, steady) each bed has its own separate flat screen TV to watch.

After this, the sexy blue and pink mood lighting and the wide cream lounges in the sitting room are almost a letdown: And all this from the responsible people at Hyatt hotels too.
