Prince Harry Enjoys Free Time and Hotel Partying in San Diego, CA [PHOTOS]

The Prince of Wales is enjoying some downtime as he was seen enjoying a burger at a fast food and partying while off duty for his training as an Apache helicopter pilot.

Because Prince Harry is one of the most followed personalities in the world, there are no stopping Twitter users to divulge his activities even during his downtime. It was said that the Prince was spotted being friendly and approachable to locals inside a San Diego pub where he and his buddies enjoyed a burger meal. In a report, it was said that the Prince was "personable" to the waiters and waitresses and politely declined to take a photo with a group of girls to keep a "low profile."

In the same report, it was found out that the Prince is staying at the Andaz Hotel in San Diego. The secret was divulged when the official Twitter page of the hotel announced that the immediate member of the Royal Family is staying there, and that his group of friends were "partying" at the hotel's rooftop.

Critics shouldn't be alarmed due to the fact that the Prince only watches rugby games and relaxing with a few non-alcoholic drinks and a couple of light beers. This only proves that the prince is over his "wild party boy" days and is taking his training as seriously as he can without getting in trouble with whatever the media says.
