

October 11, 2011

The Washington Post
Lifestyle

Royal Watch

The Post follows newlyweds Prince William and Kate Middleton

ABOUT

• About this blog

They've had their fairy tale wedding. Prince William and Kate Middleton are now starting their happily ever after, and The Post's Royal Watch will be there to follow all of the appearances, outings and fashion trends that go with it.

• About this blogger

Autumn Brewington started reading royal biographies as a child and never stopped. She will be joined by fellow Post staff and Royal enthusiasts following the couple's first year of marriage.

SEARCH THIS BLOG

Posted at 12:24 PM ET, 10/11/2011

Prince Harry parties at San Diego night club

By Cara Kelly

GALLERY: Click the image above to view more photos of Prince Harry.

http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/royal-wedding-watch/post/prince-harry-parties-at-san-diego-night-club/2011/10/11/gIQAuDTicL_blog.html

October 11, 2011

Prince Harry had been on American soil for less than 48 hours when he was spotted at a San Diego club Saturday night. Harry was seen at the Ivy Nightclub in a private balcony with a group of friends, NBC San Diego reports. Club management told the TV station that Harry will be staying at the Andaz hotel for the next few days, which is about two hours from the Naval Air Facility in El Centro where he is training to fly Apache helicopters.

Earlier in the day, People reported that the prince enjoyed a burger and beer at McP's Irish Pub, a popular spot for trainees at the naval air field. Las Vegas is rumored to be another popular destination for trainees, so it could be only a matter of time before the prince makes it to the America's premier party destination.

By Cara Kelly | 12:24 PM ET, 10/11/2011