

SIGNON SAN DIEGO DAILY DEAL!
50% Off Body Contouring – Only $162
San Diego Face Medical Spa BUY NOW

Home » Photos » Galleries »

Bikini Week turns heads downtown

Created on May 15, 2011

Share gallery:

Facebook

Twitter

The second annual Bikini Parade wasn't quite as successful as organizers had hoped but it turned a lot of heads in the Gaslamp Sunday.

The second annual "Bikini Parade" wasn't quite as successful as organizers had hoped, but it turned a lot of heads in the Gaslamp. About 40 women showed up to strut through the downtown district in bikinis, though there were probably a lot more than that on San Diego's beaches Sunday. Organizers had hoped for enough to break the record for the World's Largest Bikini Parade, which is somewhere around 330.

FOREVERMARK

Forevermark is part of the De Beers group of companies

Resources advertisement

- DIRECT TV Specials
- Wedding Dresses
- Wishabi.ca
- blackberry playbook

By Peggy Peattie

4 of 11

Liu Vershinina of Pacific Beach posed for photographers in the basement of the Andaz Hotel Sunday as she waited with other women who were to participate in the Bikini Parade.