Amy Winehouse, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Charlie Sheen, Captain America, Lady Gaga as Jo Calderone, Beyonce and Jay-Z; these are just a few of the celebrity scandal-inspired costume trends we predict to see during our favorite of local holidays: Halloween.

Ladies and gentlemen, it's time to break out those barely-there booty shorts and scheme up an innovative costume because Halloween is stealthily rounding the corner. Although we've barely come to accept that summer is actually over, top San Diego clubs are already starting to announce their 2011 Halloween party plans. From Voyeur to FLUXX, Ivy Nightclub and the entire Hard Rock Hotel, our favorite venues always go balls to the wall come Halloween, and this year is no exception.

LED Presents Deadmau5 at Petco Park – Friday, October 28

News Flash: The October 26th Deadmau5 show at Soma has been canceled and recreated in the form of the most massive Halloween party San Diego has ever seen. LED Presents and Follow the Music are bringing Deadmau5 to Petco Park on Friday, October 28, for the second show in a new electronic music concert series at Park in the Park, following the launch event with Skrillex on September 22. Part of the Meowingtons Hax Tour, Deadmau5 will headline the kickoff to Halloween weekend, along with opening sets by Avicii, Feed Me, Tommy Lee and DJ Aero. Although this will be a 16+ event, the party is still full of 21+ perks.

Playboy's Mansion Madness at Ivy Nightclub – Friday, October 28

Anyone who has partied at the Andaz Hotel this summer knows that Ivy Entertainment has a serious obsession with all things sultry, sexy Playboy. Following a series of hot summer events, Ivy Nightclub is hosting Playboy's Mansion Madness Halloween party on Friday, October 28. Party-goers dressed up as Playboy Bunnies or Hugh Hefner look-a-likes will cheers champagne flutes with actual Playboy celebrities all night long. Stay tuned for more details.

Haunted Harbor Cruise with Flagship – Saturday, October 29

Why stay on land when you can dress up and head out to sea? Flagship is hosting a new Haunted Harbor Cruise on Saturday, October 29. This upscale event will feature entertainment by DJ Digital Opinion, Frankie Lektro, and DJ Business, spinning an eclectic mix of hip hop, top 40 and electro music. More party perks include a Halloween costume contest, drink specials and taco bar. Stay tuned for more details.

Fetish Halloween with Too Short at FLUXX – Monday, October 31

FLUXX is hosting a whole weekend of big Halloween bashes, but the ultimate party will be Fetish on Monday, October 31 featuring a live performance by rap icon Too Short. Back in San Diego by popular demand, Too Short will perform many of his hit songs live in the club, including "Blow the Whistle" and "Gettin' It" while local favorite DJ Brett Bodley heats up the dance floor all night long.
