Located in the heart of the Gaslamp Quarter, Andaz Hotel San Diego is one of the sexiest urban escapes in all of San Diego.

From its elegant, sophisticated design and unpretentious style, to its three levels of luxurious entertainment, the sexy 159-room boutique hotel consistently draws an unparalleled crowd of sexy locals and glamorous vacationers looking for an unmatched experience.

If you thought Andaz was already sizzling hot, things are about to get seriously seductive this Valentine's Day. During the entire month of February, get ready for a sassy and sultry vacation – or staycation as we locals prefer to call it – an experience that serves up every seductive indulgence on a silver platter to award you with a night of pure pleasure and sensuous romance.

“Andaz San Diego offers the complete lifestyle package in one stay, from dining at the Quarter Kitchen, to dancing at the Ivy Nightclub or staying in our deluxe rooms,” said Rachael Giannecchini of Andaz San Diego. “Even some of the hottest celebrity couples, including Nick Lachey and Vanessa Minnillo have experienced the unique seduction of our hotel in the past. And, we’re escalating the romance factor with this new Valentine’s getaway so couples can feel love-struck all month long.”

This Valentine’s Day, Andaz’s steamy “Hot to the Touch” package will reward couples with an unforgettably passionate evening filled. Set the mood with a bottle of Taittinger Cuvee Prestige champagne accompanied by a bouquet of a dozen red roses and fresh, juicy strawberries. Guests can then continue on their night of seduction with an exquisite dinner for two at Andaz’s highly acclaimed Quarter Kitchen, or share a luscious bottle of vino at the Ivy Wine Bar before sauntering upstairs to Ivy Rooftop to lounge poolside at a private cabana underneath the starry skyline.

After a night of lurid dancing downstairs and at Ivy Nightclub, couples can retreat to the privacy of their room and play out their favorite fantasies with the Intimacy Kit. After a long, hot, steamy night, we know you’re going to need to recharge your batteries. Guests can enjoy an indulgent breakfast for two at the Quarter Kitchen, then sneak back to their room for some “afternoon delight” before a late check out at 2pm.

For those that would like to partake in dinner at the Quarter Kitchen, reservations are highly recommended and can be made by calling 619.814.2000. For guests who would like to reserve bottle service or a rooftop cabana at Ivy Nightclub or Ivy Rooftop, please call 800.660.0989.

The “Hot to the Touch” package is available February 1st through February 28th with rates starting at $239. For more information or to book your stay today, please call 866.907.0704 or visit The Andaz Hotel San Diego.
